Session notes

Bride is concerned with pigmentation on the cheeks and wanting an overall glow/health with the skin. Melasma is present on forehead, and signs of both dryness and dehydration. Has been using ultraceuticals at home. Recommended Vitamin C and SPF to be worn daily in the AM and vitamin A in the evening. This will build skin strength and work on pigmentation and other concerns.

Main Skin Concers for Make UP:

- Dryness around nose & eyes
- Dark circle

Wedding in 12 months

Full Bridal Skin Program including injectable will be planned

Concerns

Pigmentation spots

Hyperpigmentation is caused by an increase in melanin. Melanin is the natural pigment that gives our skin, hair and eyes their colour. A number of factors can trigger an increase in melanin production, but the main ones are sun exposure, hormonal influences, age and skin injuries or inflammation.

Uneven pigmentation

Uneven skin tone can be the result of too much melanin being produced to help protect your skin from UV light. Post-Inflammatory Hyperpigmentation is the darkening of the skin as a result of scarring, which can be caused by acne lesions or skin injury.
